

Vice President's Report
16 July 2010

At present, Ranger Darrell is fishing in the morning rain in the Mammoth Mountain area, but with many other activities keeping the Park Service busy and most of his workers on the beaches, the gardening chores around the grounds of the library are in maintenance mode, and consists mostly of trimming and watering.

He is looking forward to getting back to business in time for the next Board meeting in September.